Property Highlights

Built in the late 1800's, The Alberta Hotel is an icon in Calgary. Constructed of sandstone, it is Calgary's oldest remaining hotel building located in the central business district at one of the city's most visited downtown intersections. During its tenure, the hotel was a gathering place for people of status and elegance, and because of its detailed craftsmanship, The Alberta Hotel is still one of Calgary's most beautiful buildings. The upper level hosts Murrieta's, Calgary's premier Italian restaurant, while the main level retail space boasts floor to ceiling windows on the corner of 1st and 8th Avenue SW. Stephen Avenue (8th Avenue) has one of the highest rates of pedestrian traffic in the city, and the retail space is exposed to vehicle traffic moving North-South on 1st Street SW going in and out of the downtown core.

DESCRIPTION OF HISTORIC PLACE

Stephen Avenue National Historic Site of Canada is a historic district in downtown Calgary, also known as Old Stephen Avenue. It consists of nearly three dozen commercial buildings from the 1880-1930 era (known as the Sandstone Era), mostly retail properties, with several former banks and one church.

HERITAGE VALUE

Stephen Avenue was designated a national historic site in 2001 because it tells:

- The processes of prairie urban development including orientation towards the railway, a gridiron plan, and spatial specialization;
- The rising importance of the retail sector of the Canadian economy; and
- The central role that such retail streets have played, and continue to play

The heritage value of Stephen Avenue resides in its distinctive character as a late-nineteenth-century retail streetscape in a growing prairie urban centre.

CHARACTER-DEFINING ELEMENTS

Key features contributing to the heritage value of this site include:

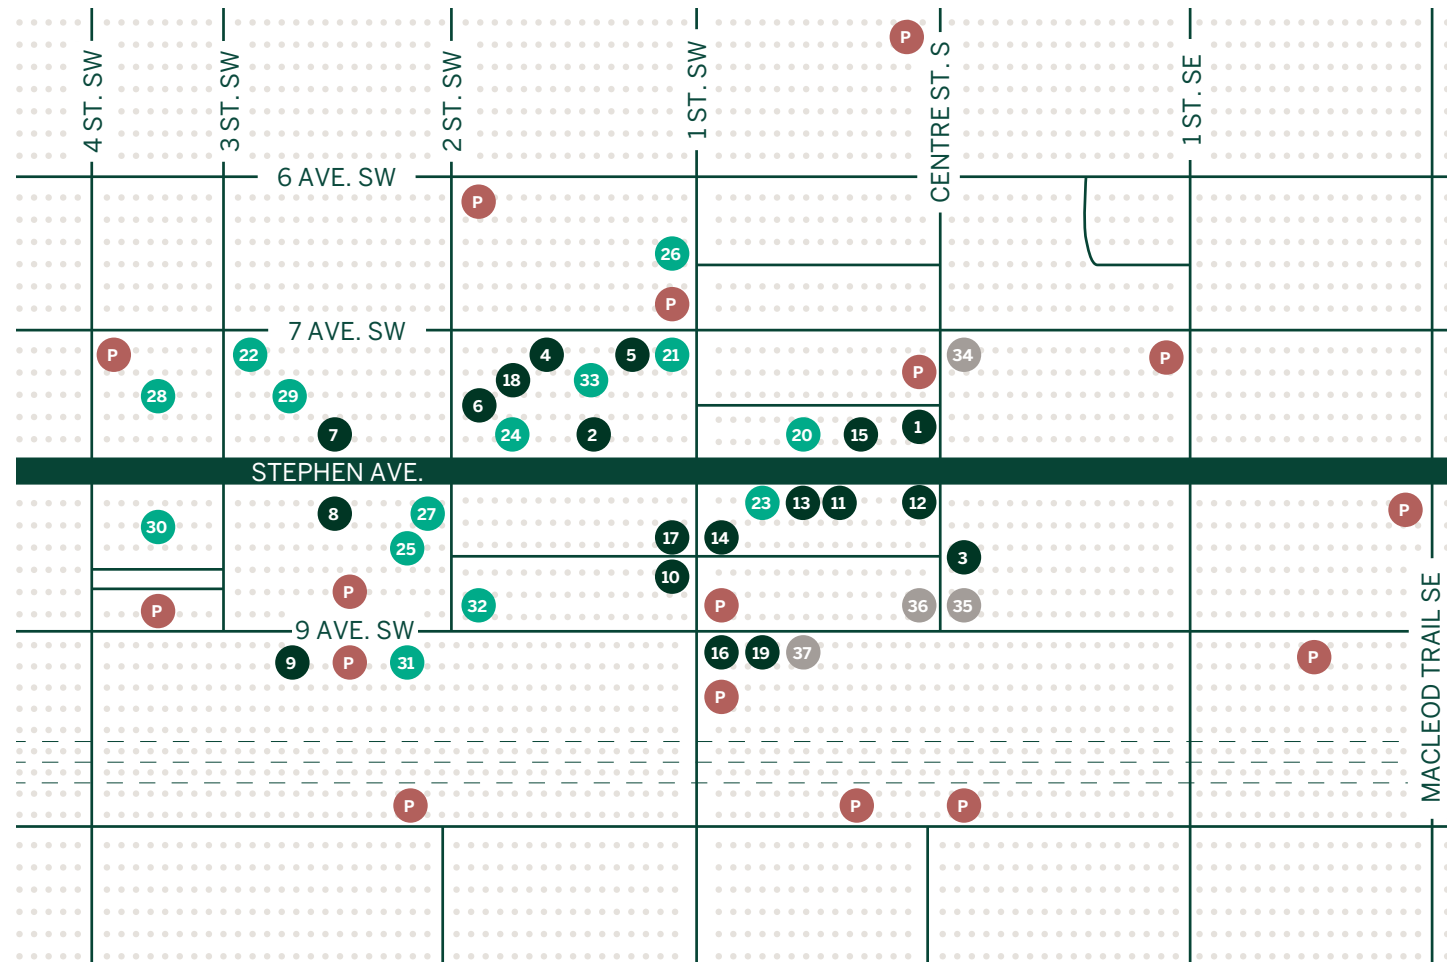

- Compact, rectangular massing, and modest height buildings
- Linear character of the district, within an urban grid
- Use of lots with buildings abutting each other, façades flush to the sidewalk, and rear alleys
- Masonry construction, largely stone with some brick and stone combinations, and one wooden structure
- Diversity of design in the façades reflecting the evolution of architectural styles
- Visual coherence of the street, created by façades set flush to the sidewalk and ornately detailed cornices
- Large windows - either flat or round-headed
- Variety of architectural detail of the principal façades, including in the commercial shop fronts at street level, the door and window surrounds, original window sashes, cornice detail and historic signage
- Hudson's Bay Company store with terracotta cladding, adding greater height and volume.
